Context

A common challenge for the European school systems is the prevention of early school leaving (ESL). In this context the European Commission funded the Stay IN project with the aim to exploit the results of 2 previous projects: School Inclusion and CESSIT.

Aims

The main aim of the STAY IN project is to provide vocational education training (VET) teachers and trainers with the skills to:

- identify potential risk factors for early school leaving
- prevent and tackle this issue

Target Groups

Teachers and trainers from initial VET (both school based VET systems and especially dual VET systems where considerable parts of initial VET will be provided by companies which have different pedagogical backgrounds and where support of students at risk of drop out is a special challenge)

The final beneficiaries are early school leavers, those who left school before the legal age of their country or before achieving the lower legal document possible.

Main Activities

The project main activities are:

Needs Analysis

Relevant representatives of the educational and training system as well as social workers, parents and students contribute to the definition of the national context through questionnaires and interviews.

Development of training programme

Geographical transfer and modification of a training programme, available in Bulgarian, Dutch, Finnish, German and Turkish. The programme will be culturally embedded and include curriculum descriptions, modules, learning outcomes, examples and trainer guidelines.

Training of teachers and trainers

Organisation of blended learning based training courses addressed to VET teachers and trainers.

Dissemination activities

Organization of round tables and of a final transnational conference.

Results

- 1) National Needs Analysis Reports.
- 2) Training Programme for teachers and trainers on the prevention of early school leaving.
- 3) In service training courses for teachers and trainers.
- 4) Round tables and final conference.
